50th ANNIVERSARY INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE
EAST-WEST CENTER/
EAST-WEST CENTER ASSOCIATION
JULY 2–5, 2010

On behalf of the people of Hawai‘i, we send our personal greetings of aloha to everyone gathered for the East-West Center/East-West Center Association 50th Anniversary International Conference.

Since 1960, the Center has been dedicated to strengthening the relationship among the people of Asia, the Pacific and the United States. Through the Center’s cooperative research and education programs, seminar activities, arts program and other outreach activities, it has served as a premier public diplomacy program while contributing to the intellectual and cultural life of Hawai‘i.

This year, more than 800 alumni are in Hawai‘i in commemoration of the East-West Center’s 50th anniversary, and will attend the conference themed, Leadership and Community Building in the Asia Pacific Region. Drawing upon the Center’s exceptional staff and the diverse expertise of its alumni, the conference will examine key economic, social, cultural, and political issues affecting U.S. connections with the countries of Asia and the Pacific.

We extend our best wishes for a memorable convention and continued success.

Aloha,

Linda Lingle
Governor, State of Hawai‘i

Lieutenant Governor, State of Hawai‘i
July 2, 2010

Dear East-West Center Alumni, Associates, and Friends:

Welcome to our Golden Jubilee Conference! The conference committee has planned events that will celebrate the Center’s 50th Anniversary, invoke memories, provide us with new opportunities to build bridges across Asia Pacific cultures and to focus on significant issues in the region. They have also provided us with a timely theme, “Leadership and Community Building in the Asia Pacific Region.”

Drawing on the rich experience gained in half a century of East-West Center programs and alumni expertise, the conference will examine key social, cultural, political and technical issues that impact Asia and the Pacific. We celebrate the accomplishments of the Center’s first 50 years and consider the challenges that lie ahead. Prominent alumni, members of the EWC’s research staff and Board, current students, and guests will share their expertise on these subjects. You will have an opportunity to enter into a dialogue with our EWC’s Board of Governors, President, and Directors about current Center policy and future possibilities. Also, the EWCA welcomes your input into its plans to further the mission of the Center.

We are pleased to report that the Center is robust and accomplishing its mission. The student program now includes more than 500 students, the largest number in over 35 years. All the members of the Center team including staff, students, fellows, and alumni are working together to achieve our mission. Since its establishment, nearly 60,000 people have participated in EWC programs and many of them have gone on to positively influence their communities, their countries, and the world. As the Asia Pacific region changes, we believe the Center’s mission of strengthening relations and understanding among the peoples and nations of Asia, the Pacific, and the United States has become more vital than ever.

We are pleased to report that the Center is healthy, progressing toward its goals and looking forward to the continued support of the alumni.

Aloha,

Charles E. Morrison
President, East-West Center

Puongpun Sananikone
Chairman, Board of Governors

The East-West Center promotes better relations and understanding among the people and nations of the United States, Asia, and the Pacific through cooperative study, research, and dialogue. Established by the U.S. Congress in 1960, the Center serves as a resource for information and analysis on critical issues of common concern, bringing people together to exchange views, build expertise, and develop policy options.
July 2, 2010

Aloha and Sagatham!

With pleasure and excitement, we welcome our fellow East-West Center alumnae/alumni and friends from near and far as we gather in person and in spirit in Honolulu to celebrate the Golden Jubilee 50th Anniversary of the East-West Center. The “Center,” as we fondly call it, has shaped our lives in many ways: through our professional development, through the friendships and shared experiences, and through our EWCA community of colleagues.

We send our Mahalo to the many, many alumni, staff and friends who have worked hard on our EWCA Conference and on the year-long Golden Jubilee Programs, in Honolulu and in numerous cities throughout the region.

Let us once again share our friendship, our memories, our research and our laughter, and perhaps a tear or two, as we rededicate ourselves to the goals of the East-West Center — to promote better relations and understanding among the peoples of the United States, Asia and the Pacific ... and beyond.

Khaleda Rashid          Lyn Flanigan
Chair of the EWCA Board  President
July 2, 2010

Aloha,

The 50th Anniversary of the EWC means something different to each of us. Yet, we all can reflect on the Center’s impact upon our lives. If you were here in the 60s, 70s or even the 80s, you can muse about the passing of years and recall those personal and professional moments of significance to you. If you were at the Center in the last two decades you probably can measure how well it prepared you for the dynamics of change in this era of globalization.

Our 50th Anniversary Conference hopes to provide events and contacts with friends to enable you to enjoy old and treasured memories. The program will also stimulate you intellectually as contemporary issues are presented by experts and then discussed by participants. Cultural events will reflect our diverse local and international population and the materials you will receive in your registration packet represents three years of preparation of works that we hope reflect your EWC experience, and additionally places the Center in its proper international perspective.

As with all conferences of this size, there are innumerable people who have given unselfishly of their time and energy. Every key Conference Committee was co-chaired by someone from the EWCA and the EWC. We are pleased that this format worked extremely well as alumni and staff welded together the totality of the conference we hope participants enjoy. From logistics to program, from publicity to recruiting volunteers, from determining cultural events to the raising of funds, from publications to organizing EWC Day, we thank those who came together to form a well-oiled conference team.

Sincerely,

Cleo Kobayashi

EAST-WEST CENTER DAY – OPEN HOUSE
Friday, July 2 continued

East-West Center
Nostalgic and New Highlights at Burns Hall

12:30-4:30 pm  Arts Program, East-West Center Gallery, Burns Hall first floor
The EWC Gallery (and adjacent lobbies and lounge) features “East-West Treasures: Works from the Permanent Collection.” EWC has been presented with extraordinary gifts of art by heads of governments and institutions, alumni chapters, artists-in-residence, professional colleagues, young scholars, and various other Center supporters, and the current Gallery exhibition showcases a selection of works. An 8-minute video projection art work, based on the Imin Center-Jefferson Hall flagship murals and accompanied by live music, will be shown at 1:00, 2:00, and 3:00 p.m. Also in the Gallery to “talk story” with alumni is long-time staffer Jeannette ‘Benji’ Bennington. (Benji’s tea-apple-lemon punch will be served.)

12:30-4:30 pm  East-West Center Bookstore, Burns Hall first floor
Publications available for sale and for free

1:00-3:30 pm  Education Program Open House, Burns Hall second floor lobby, and rooms 2063/2064, 2118, and 2121/2125
On the mauka side of Burns Hall, enjoy a brief media presentation that locates your EWC experience in a 50-year timeline of EWC programs, and as you walk down memory lane look for yourself in hundreds of historical photos beautifully arranged by Benji Bennington. Meet with past and current staff who have been part of the student and educator programs spanning decades, and learn more about opportunities for new generations to experience these programs today.

1:00-3:30 pm  Research Program Open House, Burns Hall Second and Third floor lobbies
Were you a student, research fellow, or scholar associated with the Environment and Policy Institute, Population Institute, the Resource Systems Institute, or another EWC Research activity? Join us for the Research Program Open House on East-West Center Day, July 2 in the lobbies of the second and third floors of Burns Hall. Reconnect with some of the Research Fellows who have long been at the Center and meet new ones. Learn how research at the Center has changed in response to new regional challenges. Find out more about what we are doing in population aging, HIV/AIDS, emerging infectious disease, human rights, climate change, governance and security, China’s rise, energy security and more. (Refreshments will be served.)

1:00-3:30 pm  Pacific Islands Development Program Open House, Burns Hall, Third Floor Lobby
Featuring display and slide show depicting PIDP activities over the years, Pacific Island Reports (PIR) milestones, and PIDP publications.

1:00-3:30 pm  East-West Seminars Program Open House and Photo Showcase, Burns Hall Fourth Floor Lobby
Learn about the exciting activities of the East-West Center’s newest program, and find out how you can get involved. Enjoy refreshments as you stroll through a gallery of photos representing our activities and talk with Seminars staff, including Director Raymond Burghardt, former U.S. Ambassador to Vietnam. East-West Seminars was established in 2005 to expand East-West Center’s outreach to working professionals, from journalists to women leaders to Chinese park managers. East-West Seminars now has more than 15 programs each year including the flagship Jefferson Fellowships (1967), Senior Policy Seminar, and New Generation Seminar (1988) as well as new activities such as an international media conference, a journalists exchange between the U.S. and Muslim countries in Asia, and a seminar on urbanization challenges.

1:00-3:30 pm  Research Information Services (library), Burns Hall, Fourth floor
RIS staff will be on hand to help alumni find their own works within its collection of 5,000 books and documents produced by EWC institutes, projects, and scholars over the past 50 years. PCs for viewing the Center’s Oral History Project web pages will also be available.

1:00-3:30 pm  Films shown throughout the afternoon, Burns Hall, 4005
Two 20-minute films about EWC produced in the 1960s and 1970s by GeorgeTahara, a local producer, will be shown throughout the afternoon. These films feature several students and many staff members from the 60s and 70s:
•  Bridge for the Pacific (1971-72) focuses on the participants
•  East-West Center: Cultures in Contact (1975-76) focuses on the research institutes

3:00-4:30 pm  Reconnecting Reception, Jefferson Hall/Imin Conference Center Lanai
Afternoon coffee, tea & cupcakes with current and retired EWC staff, UH professors, Friends of the EWC and host families.

4:30-6:00 pm  University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa Alumni Reception, Kennedy Theater lanai

6:00 pm  Buses Depart from Imin Conference Center to return to Waikiki hotels

Distinguished Alumni Awards

The Distinguished Alumni Award recognizes outstanding accomplishments, including significant contributions to the promotion of better relations and understanding among the countries of East and West through activities of cultural and technical interchange; significant achievement in one’s career, and continuing support for the goals of the Center. The award was established and endowed by Dr. Dai Ho Chun, former Director of the East-West Center’s Institute for Technical Interchange.

Dr. Hao Ping
(China) (Research Intern ASDP 1993)

Dr. Hao Ping is honored for his accomplishments as a leading national educator and government official in China combined with his work with the Center’s Asian Studies Development Program. He exemplifies, both personally and professionally, the East-West Center’s core mission of community building and facilitating intercultural exchange and understanding. After entering the EWC community in 1991 to pursue an M.A. in History, Hao Ping distinguished himself through the depth of his involvement in the work at the Center with the Institute of International Relations and later with the Education Program. In 2005, he served as the President of Beijing Foreign Studies University where he remains along with holding his current post as the Vice Minister of the Chinese Ministry of Education. In addition to his career in academic administration, Hao Ping has served many organizations such as the Chinese Association for European Union, Sun Yat-sen Foundation for Cultural and Educational Exchange, and Chinese Association for International Friendly Contact.

Dr. Rajendra K. Pachauri
(India) (Fellow Resource Systems 1982)

Long before climate change became a household worry, Dr. Rajendra Pachauri identified the dangers of global warming and related environmental issues. As Director General of India’s The Energy and Resources Institute (TERI) and the Chairman of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC), he is respected internationally as a leading global thinker and researcher in this area. In 2007, he was catapulted into the spotlight when the IPCC shared the Nobel Peace Prize with U.S. Vice President Al Gore. He was awarded the “Padma Vibhushan,” India’s second highest civilian award by the President of India in 2008. Dr. Pachauri has maintained ties to the EWC since the late 1970’s when EWC researcher Toufiq Siddiqi approached him to collaborate on a project on the environmental dimensions of energy policies. This began a series of collaborations on various energy and environment-related projects that brought Dr. Pachauri to the Center many times in the 1980’s, including as a visiting fellow with the Center’s Resource Systems Institute in 1982.

Dr. Shankar Prasad Sharma
(Nepal) (Ph.D. Student 1979)

Dr. Shankar Prasad Sharma has a long and distinguished career with the government of Nepal and serves as Nepal’s Ambassador to the U.S. since November 2009. He was the Vice Chairman of the National Planning Commission and Member of the Commission in charge of Industry, Trade, Tourism, Supplies, Finance and Labour sectors. He was also Professor of Economics at the Centre for Economic Development and Administration (CEDA), Tribhuvan University. During his term as president of the EWCA Kathmandu, Nepal Chapter from 1995 to 2009, Dr. Sharma revitalized the activities of the chapter. He secured funding from the Nepal Government for the chapter, fostered community service activities, increased chapter participation in regional alumni conferences, and established a sister chapter relationship with the Brisbane, Australia chapter. A joint research project on the current and likely future effects of global warming on Australia and Nepal is ongoing. The Kathmandu, Nepal Chapter raised $1,500 for the tsunami relief fund by staging a concert in 2004. Combined with matching funds from the EWC, $3,000 was sent to help victims in India and Sri Lanka.

Dr. Delia B. Rodriquez-Amaya
(Brazil-Philippines) (MA Student 1963-65)

Dr. Delia Rodriquez-Amaya is an internationally recognized expert on food composition and analysis, food chemistry, food safety and quality, nutritive value of foods and bioactive (health promoting and disease-preventing) compounds of food. As a faculty member of the University of Campinas in Brazil since 1977, she has been intensely involved in undergraduate and graduate teaching and research in food science and related fields of food technology and nutrition. Dr. Rodriquez-Amaya is a research fellow of the Brazilian National Council for Science and Technology in the highest category (1A) since 1990, the first woman to reach this category in Food Science and Technology. She has received numerous awards including the “Andre Tosello” Award in 2005, a major award given by the Brazilian Society of Food Science and Technology. She was scientific adviser of Vitamin A Partnership for Africa, a joint project of seven African countries (Ethiopia, Kenya, South Africa, Tanzania, Uganda, Ghana and Mozambique) aimed at combating vitamin A deficiency, until it became part of HarvestPlus which she is still involved with today.

Ann Dunham Soetoro
(Ph.D. Student in Anthropology, 1973-78 Resource Systems)

Dr. Ann Dunham Soetoro receives this award posthumously in recognition of her outstanding work in anthropology. She joined the Center’s Technology and Development Institute as a degree fellow grantee in 1973 due to her keen interest in the entrepreneurship program. She pursued her master’s and doctorate degrees in anthropology with a focus on social and economic development in Indonesia. She later went on to publish “Women’s Work in Village Industries on Java” in 1982 and her Ph.D. research culminated in 1992 with a 1,000 page dissertation on “Peasant Blacksmithing in Indonesia: Surviving and Thriving Against All Odds,” which has recently been published in Indonesian as well. Dr. Dunham’s research and consulting work took her around the world. She became a consultant for the United States Agency for International Development on setting up village credit programs, then a Ford Foundation program officer in Jakarta championing women’s issues, and served in Pakistan as a consultant to the Asian Development Bank focusing on women’s welfare in 1986. In 1988, she joined Bank Rakyat Indonesia, Indonesia’s oldest bank, and helped develop the world’s largest sustainable microfinance program, creating services like credit and savings for the poor, which enabled people from rural areas to engage in cottage industries and emerge from poverty. As a pioneer in the field of microfinance, her anthropological research helped shape the policies set by the Bank. At present the Bank’s microfinance program is the world leader in terms of savers, with an average of 31 million members, according to MIX (Microfinance Information eXchange Inc.). Her life served as an inspiration for her son, President Barack Obama, and daughter, Maya, who share her values and dedication to make the world a better place.
Outstanding Volunteer Awards

The Outstanding Volunteer Award recognizes what is best in a volunteer including service to something beyond oneself, a willingness to contribute time and effort without pay, and a donation of time and effort beyond one’s normal responsibilities. The awardees lead by example and by demonstrating the qualities that bring out the best in others.

Thanh-Lo Sananikone

Thanh-Lo currently serves as the Vice President of Development for the EWCA Executive Board and has been responsible for raising funds for student scholarships and alumni conferences. Thanh-Lo’s leadership and support of the East-West Center Association is especially noteworthy for her outstanding work as the Co-Chair of the 2006 International Conference held in Hanoi, Vietnam. Over the years, she has also served as a Board member of the EWCA Hawai‘i Chapter, the Friends of the EWC, and numerous non-profit organizations in Hawai‘i.

Loretta Pang

Loretta is being recognized for her outstanding work as the Secretary Treasurer of the Association for eight years and her service on EWCA committees for mentoring, program review and scholarships. Loretta also serves on numerous community boards. She helped to foster international understanding at Kapiolani Community College where she retired as an Emeritus Professor of Chinese History at Kapiolani Community College.

Trudy Schandler Wong

Trudy helped to develop the Friends of the East-West Center (FEWC) to be a bridge between the Center and the community. The FEWC sponsors and supports programs and activities for EWC students and the general public such as the China Seminar and ‘Ohana (Host Family) Program. Trudy’s leadership and support of the Friends is especially noteworthy for her outstanding work as a host family for hundreds of EWC students over the past four decades.

Kok Kian Poh

KK provided outstanding leadership as the chair of the EWCA Executive Board for six years. He was an active leader of the Malaysia Chapter and chaired the successful 2002 alumni conference in Malaysia. KK’s wise counsel has always been appreciated by his colleagues. He continues to assist the Malaysia Chapter and participates on the EWCA Executive Board.
Outstanding Chapter Awards

This award recognizes chapters that have provided significant contributions to the goals and programs of the East-West Center Association. The chapter must have active and committed leadership, quality programs which expand the outreach of the Center into local communities, an active membership and proactive approach in organizing events and activities which benefit and interest the local alumni.

Asian Studies Development Program Chapter

The Asian Studies Development Program Chapter (ASDP) is involved in many activities including publishing the “East-West Connections: Review of Asian Studies,” maintaining the ASDP List Serve, hosting regional workshops, carrying out fund raising efforts, organizing annual ASDP meetings, and publishing an eNewsletter.

Kathmandu, Nepal Chapter

The Kathmandu, Nepal Chapter has been active in organizing community service projects such as providing food and education to street children, organizing a fund raising concert for Tsunami Relief, increasing involvement of the chapter in regional alumni conferences, and developing a sister chapter relationship with the Brisbane, Australia Chapter.

Jakarta, Indonesia Chapter

The Jakarta Chapter has been active in serving as the host chapter for the 2008 International Conference in Bali, serving as a leading member of the alumni network, hosting and organizing the 1988 Bali Conference, organizing the 1989 regional conference in Yoyakarta, and setting up a non-profit organization to receive donations to carry out the work of the chapter.

East-West Center Association Makana Award

Awarded for life long dedication to the East-West Center’s mission.

Senator Daniel K. Inouye was selected for the Makana award not only for his long and steadfast support of the East-West Center as one of its founding fathers, but also because of his instrumental role in promoting understanding and better relations with the Asia Pacific U.S. region throughout his distinguished public service career. Senator Inouye has provided leadership and advice to our alumni association through his gentle and persuasive attitude which is respected by all. Mahalo to Senator Inouye for his life long dedication to the Center’s mission.

The Friends of the East-West Center
The Friends of the East-West Center, founded to be a bridge between the Center and local community, has, over the years, become synonymous with that sense of aloha so unique to Hawai‘i. From organizing lecture series featuring visiting dignitaries and scholars to opening their homes and families to Center participants through the host family program, the Friends have worked tirelessly to enrich both the hearts and minds of participants. In addition, the Friends sponsor the reading room in Hale Mānoa, which provides newspapers and periodicals from throughout South East Asia, giving participants a small piece of home.

The East-West Center Association was founded in 1979 as a means for alumni from the EWC to continue their involvement and support of the EWC’s mission to promote better relations and understanding between people and countries of Asia, the Pacific and U.S. Alumni include all individuals who have taken part in programs at the EWC. The EWCA has grown to an international organization with 50 chapters. As former Chair of the EWCA Didin Satrapradja stated the alumni are the arms and legs of the EWC continuing to reach out across the globe and promote the Center and its mission. The EWC Board of Governors recognized the importance of the alumni in furthering the work of the Center by including a representative from the EWCA Board on the EWC Board of Governors in 1995 as a member. The EWCA Board is an elected body led by an International Chair and a President who is elected from Board members in Hawai‘i who can represent the EWCA in EWC activities in Honolulu.

A Special Tribute to Alumni Officer Gordon Ring

Gordon was born a few years ago in New Britain, Connecticut, but he lived in Jamestown, New York, from age 5 until he entered Hamilton College, a small liberal arts college in upstate New York. Realizing that his freshman year didn’t go too well, he spent his “sophomore year” in Korea where his father worked for AID. He returned with a new interest in Asia and graduated from Hamilton in 1963 with a degree in Asian History. When a scholarship offer from this new institution in Honolulu, the East-West Center, came his way, the choice was easy and the rest is history.

Gordon affably enjoyed the many aspects of the EWC student life, eventually earned his master’s degree in Chinese History, and stayed in Hawai‘i to teach. In 1969, he joined the Public Affairs Office at the EWC. In 1971, he became assistant to then President Everett Kleinjans, and subsequently to Interim President Lee Jay Cho and then President Victor Li. In 1983, Gordon began a 10-year stint as Alumni Officer. After a brief interlude away from the EWC from 1993 till 1999, when Gordon worked in alumni relations at the Florida Institute of Technology, Gordon and his wife Milly returned to the EWC when the alumni position became available in 1999. And they’re still here.

Gordon has seen the Center since “before the buildings were built;” he was here during the evolution of the center from the initial three institutes for students, research and development to the five substantive institutes, and through its many subsequent stages of development. He was here when the Center was incorporated into the collaborative public non-profit entity it is today. He has led and served the alumni through numerous conferences and reunions.

Gordon says: “I’ve been an exceedingly lucky, fortunate person to have had the distinct honor and pleasure to spend the majority of my life...at the East-West Center.” No, Gordon, we, the alumni of the East-West Center, have been exceedingly lucky and fortunate that you were and are here!
You Can Help Celebrate Our 50th Year!

The East-West Center is a remarkably successful public-private partnership. In the early years, funding came almost exclusively from the U.S. government. Today the Center relies on essential support from individuals, private agencies, foundations, and corporations. These private gifts fund strategic opportunities while also helping to ensure that public support continues to cover the Center’s basic operating expenses. They make it possible for the Center to provide student scholarships, and continue to build outstanding leadership, education and exchange programs.

Because the Center’s U.S. Congressional appropriation covers most of the basic operating costs, your contribution goes directly to fund scholarships and other important programs that would not exist without private support. All gifts, large or small, are important, but your participation in this, our 50th year, is most important of all!

50TH FOUNDERS SOCIETY

On the occasion of the East-West Center’s 50th Anniversary, President Charles Morrison has created the 50th Founders Society to honor and permanently recognize those who have contributed $50,000 or more to the Center since its founding in 1960.

Donors can qualify for the Society through cumulative giving, of $50,000 and pledges of $50,000 over as many as 5 years can count, as long as at least $20,000 is received before December 2011. (In-kind contributions and bequest intentions are always welcome, but not included in the $50,000 needed to qualify.)

Benefits to members of the 50th Founders Society include:

- Permanent recognition in a prominent location on the East-West Center campus
- On-going recognition in the East-West Center’s quarterly newsletter, annual report and website
- Special 50th Founders medallion
- Exclusive gift commemorating the East-West Center’s 50th Anniversary
- Invitations to special events

The East-West Center played a leading role in identifying and responding to the enormous economic, environmental and human challenges faced throughout the Asia Pacific Region. The Center’s mission of building a peaceful, prosperous and just Asia Pacific region is more important now than ever. Members of the 50th Founders are permanently recognized for being particularly instrumental in making this possible.

HOW YOU CAN HELP

You are part of the East-West Center community and can help change lives. Each year many qualified students need a financial boost in order to benefit from the East-West Center experience, as you have! Thanks to the generosity of alumni donors, the EWC Association Alumni Scholarship Fund has been able to distribute more than $150,000 so that 47 students from 16 countries could participate in EWC education programs.

For gifts of $25,000 or more, the EWC will set up separately managed funds. Gifts of $50,000 or more qualify as Permanent Named Endowments. No fees are charged so that all revenues can go directly to the beneficiaries.

Below are stories from some of the increasing number of alumni who are making a difference in students’ lives while also enjoying the connections they make through their generosity.

The Amanda & Natalie Ellis Women Leaders Scholarship Award. EWC alumnae Amanda Ellis established this $50,000 scholarship endowment in honor of her mother, Natalie Ellis, who has made significant contributions to the education of young women for more than 50 years. The scholarship aims to encourage young women leaders from Australia and New Zealand to study in the Asia Pacific Leadership Program (APLP).

Buddy & Melga Torre Gendrano Fellowships. Buddy and Melga Gendrano created the Buddy & Melga Torre Gendrano Fellowships as a $50,000 Permanent Named Endowment. Awards will assist Degree Fellows or APLP participants from the Philippines or Hawai‘i with preference given to those with a past record and intention of future involvement in the fields of education and/or agriculture.

Ashok Kumar Malhotra Seva (Compassionate Service) Award. A dedicated volunteer himself, 1960’s alumnus Ashok Malhotra created a $25,000 fund to reward and encourage public service. The Ashok Kumar Malhotra Seva (Compassionate Service) Award provides support to international students with an outstanding academic record and a record of and intention to be involved in continuing community service in the Asia Pacific region.

The East-West Center promotes better relations and understanding among the people and nations of the United States, Asia and the Pacific through cooperative study, research and dialogue. Established by the U.S. Congress in 1960, the Center serves as a resource for information and analysis on critical issues of common concern, bringing people together to exchange views, build expertise and develop policy options.

Officially known as the Center for Cultural and Technical Interchange between East and West, the Center is a U.S.-based institution for public diplomacy with international governance, staffing, students and participants.

The Center is an independent, public, nonprofit organization with funding from the U.S. government, and additional support provided by private agencies, individuals, foundations, corporations and governments in the region.

The Center’s 21-acre Honolulu campus, adjacent to the University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa, is located midway between Asia and the U.S. mainland and features research, residential and international conference facilities. The Center’s Washington, D.C. office focuses on preparing the United States for an era of growing Asia Pacific prominence.
