The East-West Center invites graduate students around the world to submit papers to the 9th Annual International Graduate Student Conference (IGSC) on the Asia-Pacific Region. Papers from all disciplines on topics relating to the Asia-Pacific region are welcome.

Fields represented in past conferences include (and are not limited to) Anthropology, Environmental Studies, Business, Culture, Education, Economics, Ethnomusicology, Geography, Health, History, Law, Linguistics, Philosophy, Politics, Population studies, Sociology and Urban and Regional Planning.

Limited number of travel grants available for students attending the conference. Conference delegates will be eligible to submit articles for publication in the East-West Center's working paper series.

The East-West Center promotes better relations and understanding among the people and nations of the United States, Asia, and the Pacific through cooperative study, research, and dialogue. Established by the U.S. Congress in 1960, the Center serves as a resource for information and analysis on critical issues of common concern, bringing people together to exchange views, build expertise, and develop policy options. The Center is an independent, public, nonprofit organization with funding from the U.S. government, and additional support provided by private agencies, individuals, foundations, corporations, and governments in the region.
