With the East-West Center's emphasis on building Ohana and Laulima, tonight's session will incorporate newly formed Wednesday Evening Seminar discussion groups and give participants the opportunity to "Get to Know Each Other". This session will first introduce WES participants to topics and themes that will be presented throughout the semester. We will then host a guest artist from Honolulu who will guide WES participants through creative modes of expressing concerns and critical standpoints drawing from our various backgrounds. This seminar will encourage students to engage with each other through various activities with the objective of celebrating our diversity and building strategies for teamwork. Tonight will be a chance for you to share, learn, and encourage you to speak your mind. Be sure to bring pen or pencil.

Refreshments will be served. Please bring your own cup, plate/bowl and utensil.
