East-West Center Wednesday Evening Seminar

Keoni Auditorium
Hawai‘i Imin International Conference Center

February 6–April 16, 2008
6:30 pm - 8:30 pm

Syllabus: Spring 2008
Emerging Issues in the Asia and the Pacific

INTRODUCTION
In Fall 2007, the seminar series focused on different aspects of sustainability and sustainable development. In Spring 2008, we will continue the idea of sustainability gearing more towards projects, but under the overarching theme of “Emerging issues in the Asia and the Pacific.” Hence, this semester the series will also include a few seminars to focus on current important international, regional concerns.

We will begin the series with a presentation by Dr. Sitiveni Halapua who will speak about sustainable development in the Pacific region. The week after, we have a panel presentation by a group of students working on the University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa Language Documentation Project. This will be followed by a presentation on cyber crimes and ways to protect ourselves. In the fourth week the Honolulu Academy of Arts is co-sponsoring a talk by Dr. Morris Rossabi from the University of Columbia. He will give a visually illustrated lecture about the historical and current connections in commerce and artistic diffusion of the famous trade route connecting Asia and Europe also known as “the Silk Road”. This will be followed by a discussion on “Smart Buildings,” in the fifth week, and in the sixth week we will have discussions on “Bollywood” for peace. After the spring break, we are scheduled to have a presentation by EWC President Dr. Charles Morrison who will speak about US relations with Asia. The 8th week will bring 4-5 sustainability related projects to the audience. We will conclude with a presentation (with films) about a subtitling project of films from South East Asia as a means to increase audience access and sustainability of small film industries.

OVERVIEW OF THE WEDNESDAY EVENING SEMINAR

The Wednesday Evening Seminar (WES) is a weekly gathering of Center participants in their first fall and spring semester. WES brings together fellows from diverse academic disciplines, geographic areas, life experiences, and East-West Center programs to learn and dialogue on issues of common concern that impact the U.S. and Asia Pacific region.
While the graduate student experience tends to focus attention on highly specialized fields of study at the University, the Wednesday Evening Seminar challenges EWC fellows to explore regional issues that may extend beyond their range of expertise or comfort zones. Issues are explored through invited speakers, films and facilitated small group discussions. Through this process EWC fellows forge bonds among themselves that ultimately strengthen the Center’s diverse, global community.

Recent or upcoming Wednesday Evening Seminar themes:

- Sustainability: Behind the Veneer of the Rhetoric
- Creating Futures for Asia and the Pacific: Choices and Behaviors
- Empowering People for the Future of Asia and the Pacific
- Risk and Security in Asia and the Pacific

History of the Wednesday Evening Seminar

As with many innovative activities at the East-West Center, this seminar series emerged from student recommendations and student-led action. Degree fellows perceived the need for a unifying intellectual experience in an increasingly diversified student program. The Wednesday Evening Seminar began as a series of Center-wide discussions to explore the concept, and emerged as a student leadership project that developed into a distinctive, on-going feature of the student program.

Currently, the seminar is planned and organized by EWC degree-fellow interns, with the support of the Center’s Education and Research programs staff.

The Seminar is required for degree fellows during their first fall and spring semesters, and fall semester for APLP fellows. Continuing fellows are welcome to attend and often continue to participate in the seminar series.

Course Objectives

The overall goal of the East-West Center is to contribute to a peaceful, prosperous, and just Asia-Pacific community, thus serving as a vigorous hub for cooperative research, education, and dialogue on critical issues of common concern to the Asia-Pacific region and the United States. To reach this goal, facilitating understanding among the students of the United States, Asia and the Pacific who study together at the East-West Center is one of the Wednesday Evening Seminar’s most important endeavors. Thus, discussion of the empowerment in Asia and the Pacific can lead to shared knowledge of common concerns that affect our collective futures.

Within this context, specific objectives will aid with communication and enhance the learning process. Nine objectives are listed in the schedule to clarify the educational process of the Wednesday Evening Seminar.
COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Attendance and Participation: Students must attend all course meetings and participate in group discussions. If you are unable to attend a session, please contact Mendl Djunaidy (e-mail provided below). Coming to the Wednesday Evening Seminar should be an engaging and fun way to learn about the Asia-Pacific region!

Readings: Some of the speakers may have articles or other materials for students. These documents may be sent over the East-West Center e-mail list. Thus, it is always wise to check the e-mail list for announcements!

CONTACT INFORMATION

For questions concerning attendance, please contact Mendl Djunaidy, Associate Dean of the Education Program at DjunaidM@EastWestCenter.org.
