Compass Making Workshop

Matthew Marone

Mercer University, Department of Physics

March 6, 2021 | 5 PM EST

Through the construction of magnetic compasses, this workshop will explore Song Dynasty observations about magnetic declination and show how they relate to what we know now about different sources of magnetic fields.

Cost: $5. A kit will be mailed to participants before the conference and the workshop will take place via zoom.

Limited to 15 participants. First come, first serve and you must register for the conference in order to register for the workshop.

Registration: <http://www.eastwestcommunity.org/asdp2021>
Workshop Registration Deadline: February 1
