Welcome to the 21st Annual Asian Studies Development Program National Conference

Dear Colleagues,

On behalf of the Asian Studies Development Program (ASDP), the Association of Regional Centers for Asian Studies (ARCAS), and Missouri State University (MSU), we are pleased to welcome you to Branson, Missouri for this year’s conference. We hope that in addition to enjoying the outstanding presentations lined up for this year’s meeting, you also have a chance to explore Branson, one of the famous country music capitals of the United States. We hope you have arrived early to take advantage of the Stone Hill Winery tour and the Amazing Acrobats of Shanghai accompanied by the Missouri State University local arrangement planning members, Mrs. Tami Sutton and Mr. Peng Zhang.

Once again, this year’s program is exceptionally diverse, rich and stimulating; including presentations on literature, art, philosophy and religion, the social sciences, and pedagogy from a broad array of institutions of higher learning. Our Friday keynote speaker is Dr. William M. Tsutsui, President of Hendrix College, who will address the topic “After 3.11: Hope, Resilience, and Resignation in 21st Century Japan.” Many of you have enjoyed getting to know Dr. Tsutsui from other ASDP conferences or workshops. Our Saturday keynote speaker is Dr. Pheng Cheah, Professor of Rhetoric and Chair of the Center for Southeast Asian Studies, the University of California at Berkeley. Dr. Cheah will address the topic “Asia as Question: Rethinking Asian Studies in Contemporary Globalization.”

We wish to thank all of our generous sponsors of this year’s conference. As always, ASDP and ARCAS provided financial support for our two keynote speakers. Thanks also to MSU, whose generous financial and logistical assistance made this event possible. Special thanks to the MSU Office of China Programs, the College of Arts and Letters, the College of Humanities and Public Affairs, and the Department of Modern and Classical Languages. Thanks to the Office of International Programs and the Office of Financial Services for their expertise and support.

We also wish to thank the following individuals for their special assistance and contributions: Peter Hershock (ASDP Director), Betty Buck (ASDP Senior Advisor), Jeffrey Dippmann (President of ARCAS), and Jessica Sheetz-Nguyen (ASDP Alumni Association President) for their professional and gentle guidance along the way; Audrey Minei (ASDP Secretary) and Grant Otoshi (East-West Center Administrative Officer) for their assistance. We also need to thank MSU local arrangement planning members, Tami Sutton, Peng Zhang, Dandan Liu, Joyce Eddy, Hunter Klie, Samantha Francka, William Hader, and Xiaomin Zhou for their hard work. Each individual shared a generosity of spirit and time to make this conference possible. Please do not forget to express your gratitude to each of them.

Enjoy your memorable visit to Branson and most of all enjoy the conference!

Warm regards,

Weirong Yan-Schaefer, Missouri State University
Local Arrangement Conference Chair

Paul Dunscomb, University of Alaska Anchorage;
Kathleen Doss, Portland Community College

HOST INSTITUTION

Missouri State University
Founded in 1905, Missouri State University (MSU) is the second largest university in Missouri with three campuses in the scenic Ozark Mountains: Springfield, Mo., West Plains, Mo., Mountain Grove, Mo., and one in Dalian, China. MSU’s richly diverse student population of 24,000 (including 1,500 international students) represents all 50 states and 85 foreign countries. Offering 150 undergraduate majors and over 45 degree programs, MSU has nearly 4,000 faculty and staff, with 90 percent of full-time ranked faculty holding the most advanced degree in their field. In 1995, MSU was granted a public affairs mission focusing students on ethical leadership, community engagement, and cultural competence. In 2014, MSU has received the “Best in the Midwest” distinction from the Princeton Review and has been included on this list since list’s inception 11 years ago. It also recently made Forbes’ list of America’s top colleges and universities.
