EAST-WEST
CENTER

Revisiting the Past, Living the Present, Envisioning the Future

13–15 March 2014 PLAN NOW TO JOIN US!

The ASDP National Conference is an annual event that provides an opportunity for ASDP alumni and other interested college and university faculty members to share research related to Asian cultures and societies, as well as strategies for effectively infusing Asian content into undergraduate humanities, social science, business, and science curricula. Known for its multi-disciplinary approach and convivial dynamics, the ASDP National Conference also offers an opportunity to extend professional networks and explore new possibilities for both personal and institutional collaboration

Hotel reservations for the conference can be made by following the link here:

Send us a notice about your recent or upcoming book publication so we can be sure to include you in the book publication panels.

Proposals are invited for individual papers, panels, poster sessions, or roundtable sessions for the 2014 conference in Houston. While we enthusiastically welcome the usual panel and paper proposals on a topic of your choice, we would also like to invite you to consider participating in the following panels that have already been approved and are listed on the next page. There are one or two spaces available in most panels but we also encourage the formation of additional panels on the same or similar topics, if there is sufficient interest. You may contact the panel leaders or the program chairs if you are interested in joining one of the panels listed below. Please feel free to propose additional panels. We are still looking for panels on Asian theater and those incorporating psychological, sociological, anthropological or scientific perspectives. Please plan to submit a 200-250 word abstract by October 31. Early submissions greatly facilitate putting together meaningful panels.
