

East-West Center Gallery
Honolulu, Hawai'i

Sunday, January 28, 2018
2:00–3:30 pm
Free admission

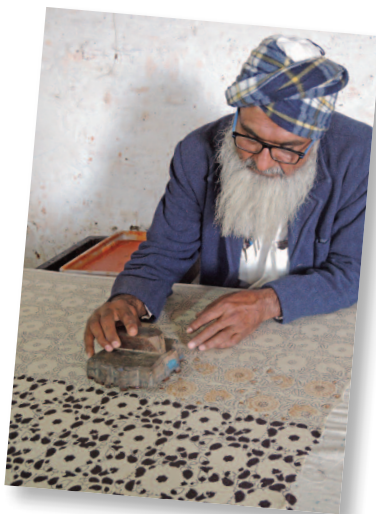

The East-West Center Arts Program presents

FAMILY SUNDAY

Indian Bollywood Dance Workshop and Textile Demonstrations

This FAMILY SUNDAY event will feature textile demonstrations and Bollywood dance workshop (suitable for ages 5 and up). This event is presented in conjunction with the current EWC Gallery exhibition "Irresistible Resist: The Art of Indian Dyes and Design."

Indian Bollywood Dance Workshop by Harmony Sayward Turner

"Come one, come all, and discover your inner bollywood dancer! In this lively dance workshop, you will learn basic Bollywood dance techniques and patterns, while also getting the chance to perform a short, choreographed piece. No dance experience required, but you must be willing to have fun, let go, and feel the beat from your head to your feet! Bring the whole family, because there's a part for everyone to play!"

Textile Demonstration by Hawai'i Handweavers' Hui

Two artists from the Hawai'i Handweaver's Hui will be demonstrating. Ghislaine Chock will bring a small loom and demonstrate weaving techniques. Liz Train will demonstrate batik hot wax resist using Indonesian tjap stamps and tjantings.

If you have any questions, please contact Annie Reynolds, East-West Center Arts Program Assistant, at reynolda@EastWestCenter.org or (808)944-7341

East-West Center Gallery
John A. Burns Hall
1601 East-West Road
(corner Dole St. & East-West Rd.)

For further information:
944-7177
arts@EastWestCenter.org
<http://arts.EastWestCenter.org>

