East-West Center

Opportunities for Study and Scholarship

Located in Honolulu adjacent to the University of Hawai'i, the Center's 21-acre campus features educational, conference, and residential facilities nestled in the heart of beautiful Mānoa Valley. East-West Center students develop lifelong relationships and a powerful sense of community with others from across the U.S., Asia, and the Pacific.

OUR DISTINCTIVE APPROACH

The East-West Center student programs provide:

- A dynamic, international residential community
- A stimulating environment for academic collaborations and connections
- Engaging activities, seminars, and conferences, with a focus on shared issues across the U.S., Asia, and the Pacific
- Leadership and professional development opportunities
- Cultural exchange

The East-West Center promotes better relations and understanding among the people and nations of the United States, Asia, and the Pacific through cooperative study, research, and dialogue. Established by the U.S. Congress in 1960, the Center serves as a resource for information and analysis on critical issues of common concern, bringing people together to exchange views, build expertise, and develop policy options. The Center is an independent, public, non-profit organization with funding from the U.S. government, and additional support provided by private agencies, individuals, foundations, corporations, and governments in the region.

East-West Center Student Programs

The East-West Center's student programs, carried out in cooperation with the University of Hawai'i (UH), are designed to develop the leadership skills and regional literacy needed to meet the evolving demands and interdependency of global change. The pursuit of graduate study in specific fields is enhanced through activities that promote understanding and problem solving across disciplinary, cultural and national boundaries. The EWC's unique approach is its focus on community building at the campus level as a stepping-stone to community building at the regional level.

While in residence at the Center, student fellows learn, work, and live together, and extend helping hands to the local community. Through cultural exchange, shared experiences, and collaborative preparation for future leadership roles throughout the region, the East-West Center experience creates lasting relationships and an active network of people committed to positive change.
