WEDNESDAY EVENING SEMINAR

Education Program Presents

Student Panel on Doing Research Crossing Borders in the Asia Pacific

Marion Cadora, United States, Department of Art and Art History
Azeema Faizunnisa, Pakistan, Department of Sociology
John Friend, United States, Department of Political Science
Mami Hayashi, Japan, Department of American Studies
Xiaofeng Kang, China, Department of Geography

Wednesday, November 9, 2011
6:30 – 8:00 p.m.
Keoni Auditorium, Imin International Conference Center

Marion Cadora is a MA candidate in the Department of Art and Art History. She is a former Graduate Degree Fellow and currently a Student Affiliate. She is doing research on contemporary arts in Papua New Guinea. Marion is from California.

Azeema Faizunnisa is a doctoral student in Sociology. Azeema is currently an EWC Student Affiliate and a former EWC Graduate Degree Fellow and is from Pakistan.

John Friend is a degree fellow with the East-West Center and a Ph.D. Candidate in the Department of Political Science, University of Hawaii at Manoa, where he focuses on the politics of disease in South Korea and the Philippines. Using ethnographic and archival research methods, he investigates the relationship between nationalism and health-related social movements in postcolonial countries.

Mami Hayashi is from Okinawa, Japan, and is a doctoral student in American Studies. Her academic interests include immigration, historiography, and international relations. She is a current EWC Student Affiliate, and a former EWC Graduate Degree Fellow and Obuchi Fellow.

Xiaofeng Kang comes from China. Currently, he is a PhD student in Geography as well as an EWC Graduate Degree Fellow. Xiaofeng has been doing research on the rural societal and landscape transformation in Southwest China.

Refreshments will be served. Please bring your own cup, plate/bowl and utensil. The public is invited to attend. Check out our WES blog - http://mywes.info/