Learning From Disasters
Karl Kim, Ph.D.
Executive Director of National Disaster Preparedness Training Center and Professor, Department of Urban and Regional Planning, University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa

Wednesday, February 1, 2012
6:30-8:30 pm
Keoni Auditorium, Imin International Conference Center

Professor Karl Kim was educated at Brown University and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT). He has been a Fulbright Scholar to Korea and Russian Far East. He previously served as Vice Chancellor and chief academic officer of the University of Hawai‘i. Currently, he is a professor of Urban and Regional Planning, director of the Disaster Management and Humanitarian Assistance interdisciplinary graduate certificate program, editor of the international journal, ‘Accident Analysis and Prevention,’ and adviser to ICLEI-Local Governments for Sustainability. His research interests include hazards, resilience, development and urban planning.

Refreshments will be served. Please bring your own cup, plate/bowl and utensil. The community is invited to attend. Check out our WES blog – http://mywes.info/