

Kiyoshi Hamano

1980s Alumnus

Kiyoshi was a professor of Economics, Kansai University, Osaka, Japan and the vice president of the EWCA Kansai Chapter upon his unexpected passing. After receiving his first MA in Economics from Keio University, Tokyo in 1983, Kiyoshi obtained his second MA in Sociology from UH at Mānoa in 1987 with an EWC scholarship. He went back to Keio University and completed his Ph.D. in Economics in 1989. Kiyoshi was a devoted teacher and an active member of the EWCA Kansai Chapter. He also served as an active member of various academic associations, advisory committees on regional economy and demographical studies.

He was a good friend and colleague to many people and a beloved husband and father to his family. We are thankful for his contributions and he will be missed.
