1970s alumna

Cheryl Kaneko Ikemiya was an EWC ISI grantee in the early 1970s, where she went after teaching English in Nagasaki, Japan, for two years. She has since worked ceaselessly to promote cross cultural arts and understanding first as assistant director of the Performing Arts Program at Japan Society then as senior program officer for the Arts Program at the Doris Duke Charitable Foundation, both in New York City. She is an ordained Buddhist priest and assistant minister at the New York Buddhist Church.
