

Motoyasu Miyata

1960s Alumnus

An alumnus of the EWC scholarship program, Dr. Motoyasu Miyata (1940-2013) was a physical oceanographer and educator who actively engaged himself in making a contribution to the international society through his expertise. Besides Japan, he worked in various countries, including Hawai'i, U.S. Mainland, Canada, Korea, and Fiji. His relationship with Hawai'i remained until his later years, chiefly as liaison officer of the International Pacific Research Center (IPRC).
