Cost of Doing Business and Taxation in the Energy Sector of the Philippines

This study seeks to analyze the economic effects of transaction costs and tax policies in the Philippines. The study develops and uses a dynamic Philippine Computable General Equilibrium (CGE) Model of the economy which is capable of tracking the revenue and efficiency effects of the key tax policy measures in the economy and the investment effects of transaction costs.