

Strengthening Governance of Transboundary Rivers

SPECIAL SERIES

Photo: Jason South/Fairfax Media/Getty Images

This Asia Pacific Bulletin series of analyses on Strengthening Governance of Transboundary Rivers is being released as part of the Indo-Pacific Conference on Strengthening Transboundary Rivers Governance organized by the East-West Center in Washington, U.S. Department of State, and Mekong-U.S. Partnership.

The invitation-only conference, held October 15-16, 2020, brings together practitioners, experts, and national and civil society representatives to focus on Enhancing Transparency, Partnerships & Stakeholder Engagement.

Founding Editor: Dr. Satu Limaye
Series Coordinator: Peter Valente

The views expressed in this publication are those of the authors and do not necessarily reflect the policy or position of the East-West Center or any organization with which the authors are affiliated.

Forward the Mekong-U.S. Partnership

Brian Eyler, Program Director for Southeast Asia, The Stimson Center, and Courtney Weatherby, Research Analyst, The Stimson Center

From Transparent to Transparency: The Evolution of the Mekong River Commission's Prior Consultation Process

An Pich Hatda, CEO, Mekong River Commission

United States-Canada Transboundary Water Governance Prioritizes Stakeholder Engagement

Jane Corwin, Chair, U.S. section of the International Joint Commission

Negotiating Transboundary River Governance in Myanmar

Khin Ohnmar Htwe, Director, Myanmar Environment Institute

Stakeholder Engagement in the Mekong River: Relevant Findings from the Blue Peace Index

Matus Samel, Consultant, Economist Intelligence Unit

The Need to Move from Water Government to Water Governance Involving Civil Society

Leonie Pearson, Senior Research Fellow, Stockholm Environment Institute

Stakeholder Engagement on Transboundary Water Management in Cambodia, Laos, and Vietnam

Jake Brunner, Head, Indo-Burma Group, and Raphaël Glémet, Senior Water and Wetlands Program Officer, International Union for Conservation of Nature

Lessons from Australia's Intra-Country Transboundary Rivers Governance

John Dore, Lead Water Specialist, Australian Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade, Singapore

A Role Model for Water Governance in a Shared Basin: the Example of the Danube

Ivan Zavadsky, Executive Secretary, International Commission for the Protection of the Danube River

Riparian Governance in South Asia: Many Rivers to Cross

Rajiv Bhatia, Distinguished Fellow, Gateway House; former Indian Ambassador to Myanmar